GOSPEL MEDITATION

Near my house there is a school for the blind. Often, I see blind people learning how to navigate the world with only a walking stick, even on a busy street with roaring traffic. I'm amazed to see how adept and carefully they get around without sight. Nevertheless, often a sadness arises in me that he or she cannot see all the beautiful colors, images, and persons filling the world around them. Those days, I find myself deeply grateful for the basic privilege of sight.

That's part of why the mystery of Jesus as the sight-giver is so moving to me. This week, it's wonderful how Bartimaeus the blind man is no longer content with his limitation and bellows out his desire for Jesus' mercy. In beautiful simplicity, he cries out to the Lord, "Master, let me receive my sight." Jesus quietly heals his sight. And off he goes, fully taking in the world around him. Imagine the delightful new way in which he is able to respond to the world.

Like blind Bartimaeus and the courageous people in my neighborhood, we may be able to get around reasonably well in our daily lives. But we are blind to the gestures of heroic love of people close to us. We can't see the desperate need of the hungry, thirsty, imprisoned, exploited, endangered, and so on, in our midst. We can't see Jesus drawing near to us in so many ways, but he is. This Sunday let's cry out to him: Lord have mercy on me! I want to see! And little by little — or perhaps in a flash — we'll see once again, or perhaps for the first time.

—Fr. John Muir

MINORITY

WORLD MISSION SUNDAY

Second Collection This Weekend at all Masses (moved from last weekend)

World Mission Sunday is a day for Catholics to recommit themselves to the Church's missionary activity through prayer and sacrifice. Pope Francis reminds us, "we cannot keep the Lord to ourselves" and that we can respond to our missionary call through charity. Your prayers and sacrifices support priests, religious, and lay pastoral leaders who are proclaiming the Gospel, building the Church and serving the poorest communities.

HELP BUY AN ULTRASOUND MACHINE

Seventy five percent of women choose life when they see their baby on an ultrasound. When OLA donates $8,000, the Knights of Columbus will contribute the remaining $22,000 to place an ultrasound machine in a Northern California Pro-Life pregnancy center. To donate, scan the QR Code to the right, or make a check payable to "Knights of Columbus, Council 6038" and send it to the parish office.
